

DIPARTIMENTO DI FISICA

SAPIENZA
UNIVERSITÀ DI ROMA

Rome, February 29 2016

Dear Colleague,

Since 2001, the Department of Physics at the Sapienza University of Rome established two awards: the Felice Pietro Chisesi and Caterina Tomassoni Prize and the Caterina Tomassoni and Felice Pietro Chisesi Prize, to commemorate and honor two distinguished persons whose legacy has permitted the establishment of these awards. The awards recognize outstanding achievements in theory, experiment, or both, in any branch of Physics. There are no restrictions on the nationality and the affiliation of the awardees. Previous awardees are:

Felice Pietro Chisesi and Caterina Tomassoni Prize

Serge Haroche (2001), Pierre Encrenaz (2003), Till Kirsten (2004), Igor Novikov (2005), Wolfgang Götze (2006), Edward Lorenz (2008), Gabriele Veneziano (2009), Massimo Inguscio (2010), Paul Richards (2011).

Caterina Tomassoni and Felice Pietro Chisesi Prize

Ignazio Ciufolini (2001), Elisa Randall (2003), Federico Capasso (2004), Piero Zucchelli (2005), Savas Dimopoulos (2006), Gerald Gabrielse (2008), Thomas W. Ebbesen (2009), A. Zunger (2010), Herbert Spohn (2011), Alain Aspect (2013), Igor Klebanov (2014), Charles L. Bennett (2015).

This letter is a call for nominations for the 2016 award Caterina Tomassoni and Felice Pietro Chisesi Prize, which consist of a monetary prize amounting to 40.000 Euro, a medal of the Schola Physica Romana, and an invitation to deliver the prize Lecture at the Sapienza University of Rome next June 16.

A nomination should consist of a letter typically one page long, which illustrates the specific nominee's achievements to be considered. A biographical sketch and a list of the most important publications of the nominee would be highly appreciated. Candidates nominated in preceding years, but who are still qualified, will automatically be reconsidered by the committee. However, a renomination that mention additional work and its impact will strengthen the nomination.

The deadline for nomination is March 31th, 2016, and the award winner will be notified by the end of April 2016. The nominations can be send by e-mail to the following address: tomassoniawards@roma1.infn.it

Sincerely,
